SPRING 1959 SAW ...

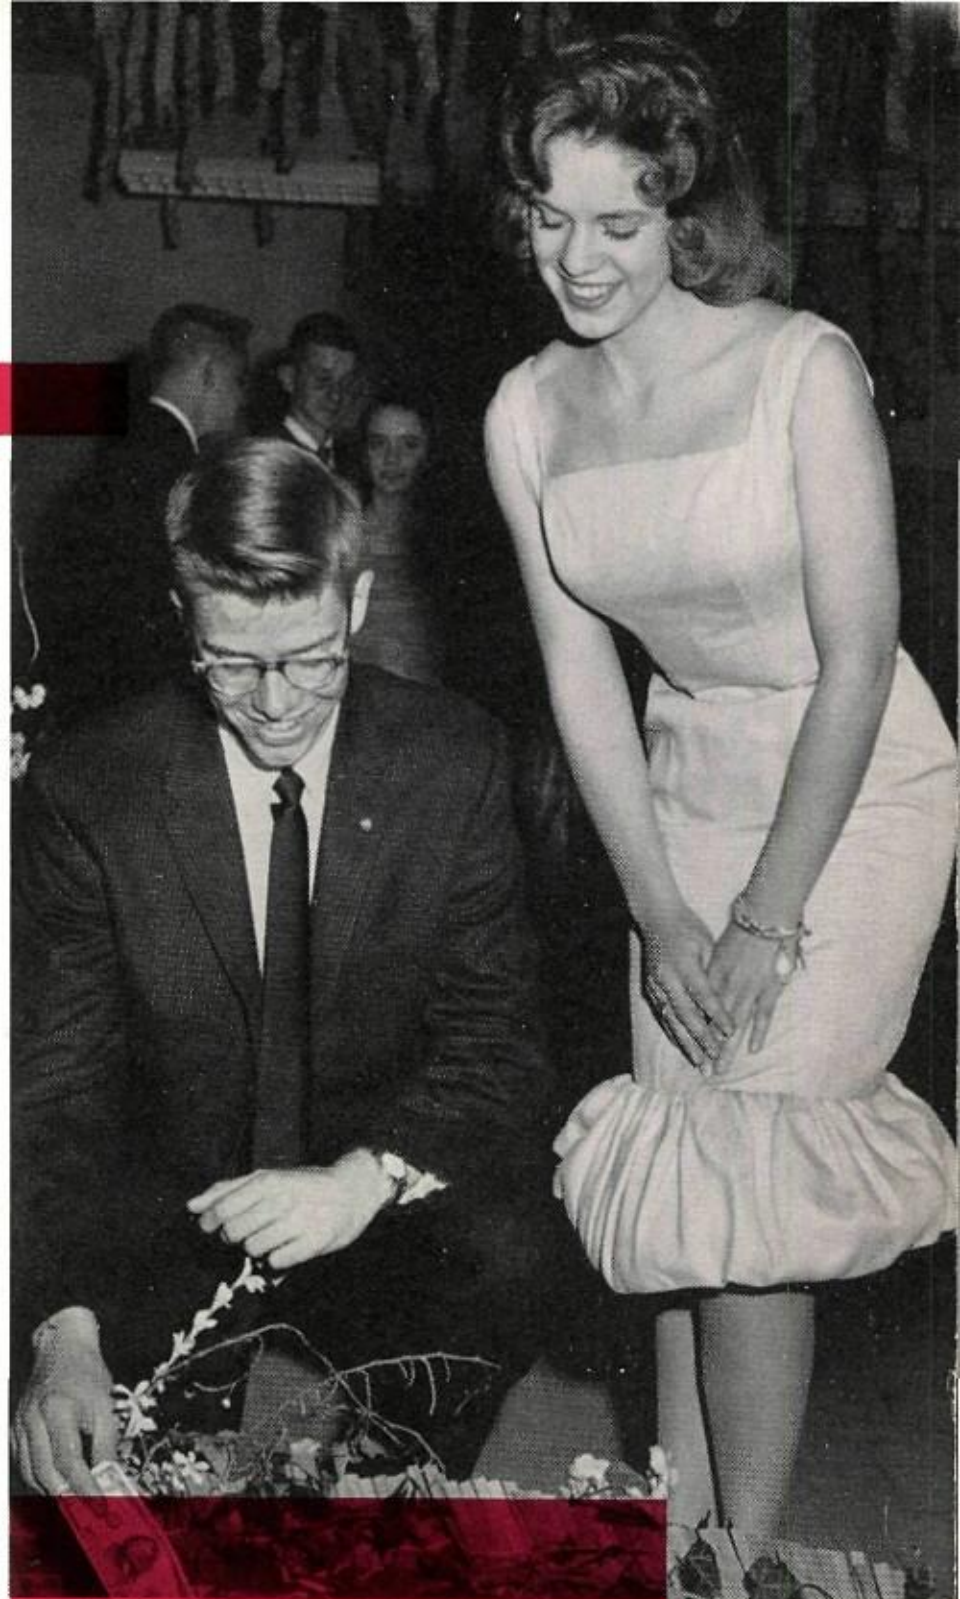

Our first sixteen pages are a pictorial record of spring events which occurred after our book went to press. These pictures portray various activities such as the sophomore play, an American forum, an operetta, the preparation for numerous assemblies, the ninth grade play, a water show, and a style show.

DANCES . . .

Upper right: It looks as if we caught the Seniors trying to get away with some of the Sophomore class funds found in a wishing well in the Orient.

The Juniors really found some sweethearts to reign over their Valentine Dance. Jerry Shockley seems to be a pretty good friend of Lorraine Pratt.

THE FIRST

Mike Perkins as Brack Weaver and Connie Barker as Jenny Parsons were the romantic leads in the Operetta . . . how unusual??

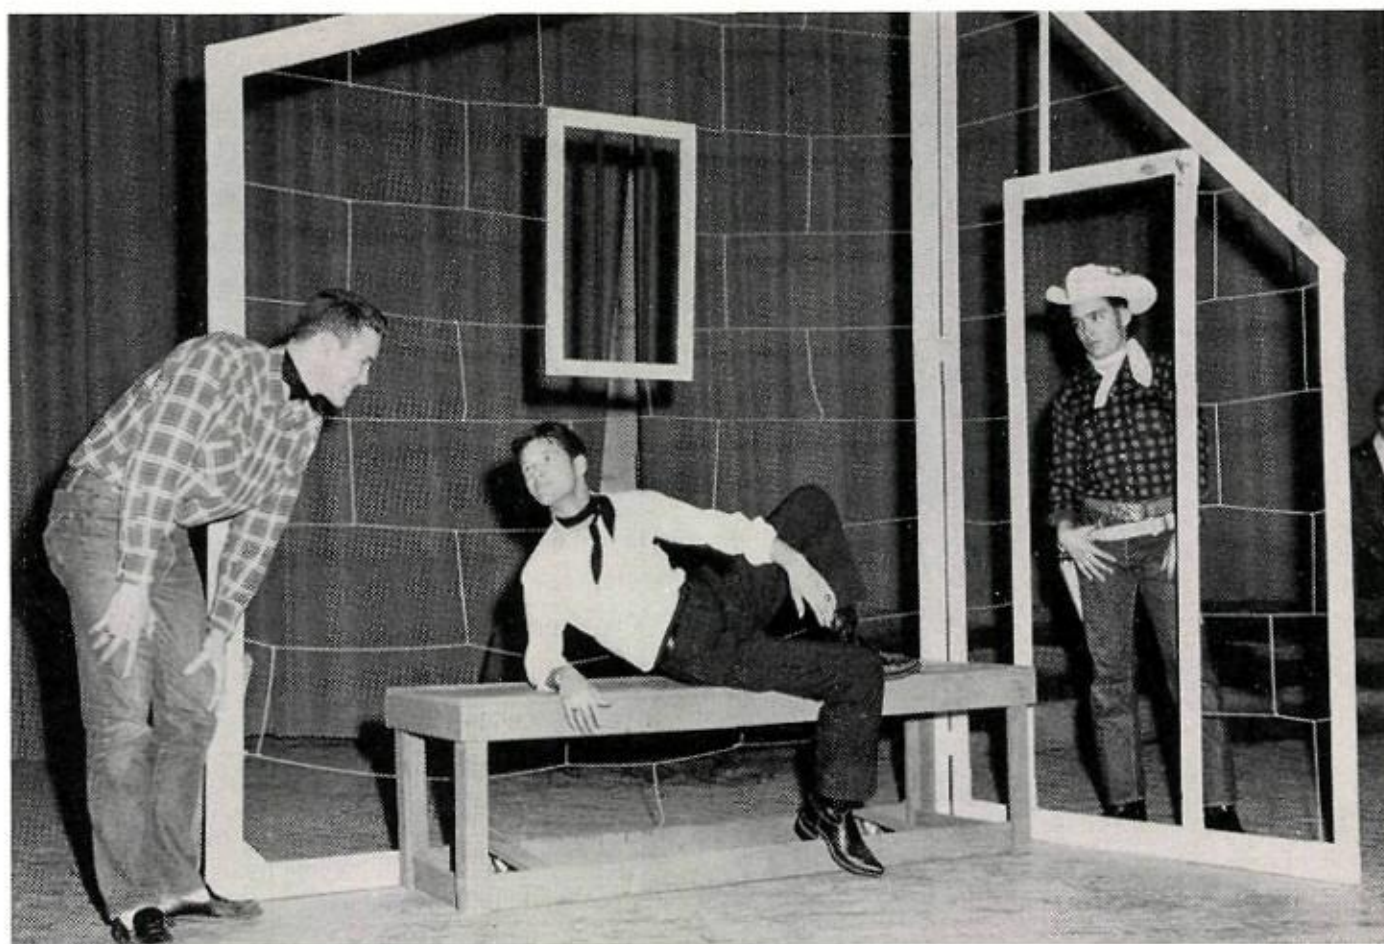

Part of the cast of "Down In The Valley," who made possible a new experience in choral singing for Edison.

The Operetta got off to a gay start with the clever curtain riser called "Sunday Excursion." The bored passengers are Mickey Rainier, Delton Shilling, Jane Hollingsworth and Margaret Boydston. Standing is Wayne Rice, the news butcher.

This is an example of the contemporary stage settings used in the operetta. Mike's friends, Eric Nash (on the left) and Ralph Kalbus are planning to "spring" him from jail.

FOLK OPERA...

More cast . . . the background music, sung by the chorus, tied the whole wonderful program together.

Van Smithen, as the father, is being pressured by the traditional mortgage-holding villain.

A THREE- LANGUAGE ASSEMBLY . . .

Judy Stumbo and Sheila de La Houssaye entertained the audience as they danced to tamborines and Spanish guitars.

This skit was presented by the 4th year Latin class in the annual foreign language assembly. Allen Kornfeld, Ronnie Fouts, Sue Sheldon, and Bonnie Creekmore were at their laughing best as they teamed together to act out the ever popular "Little Red Riding Hood" (modern version).

A BROTHERHOOD

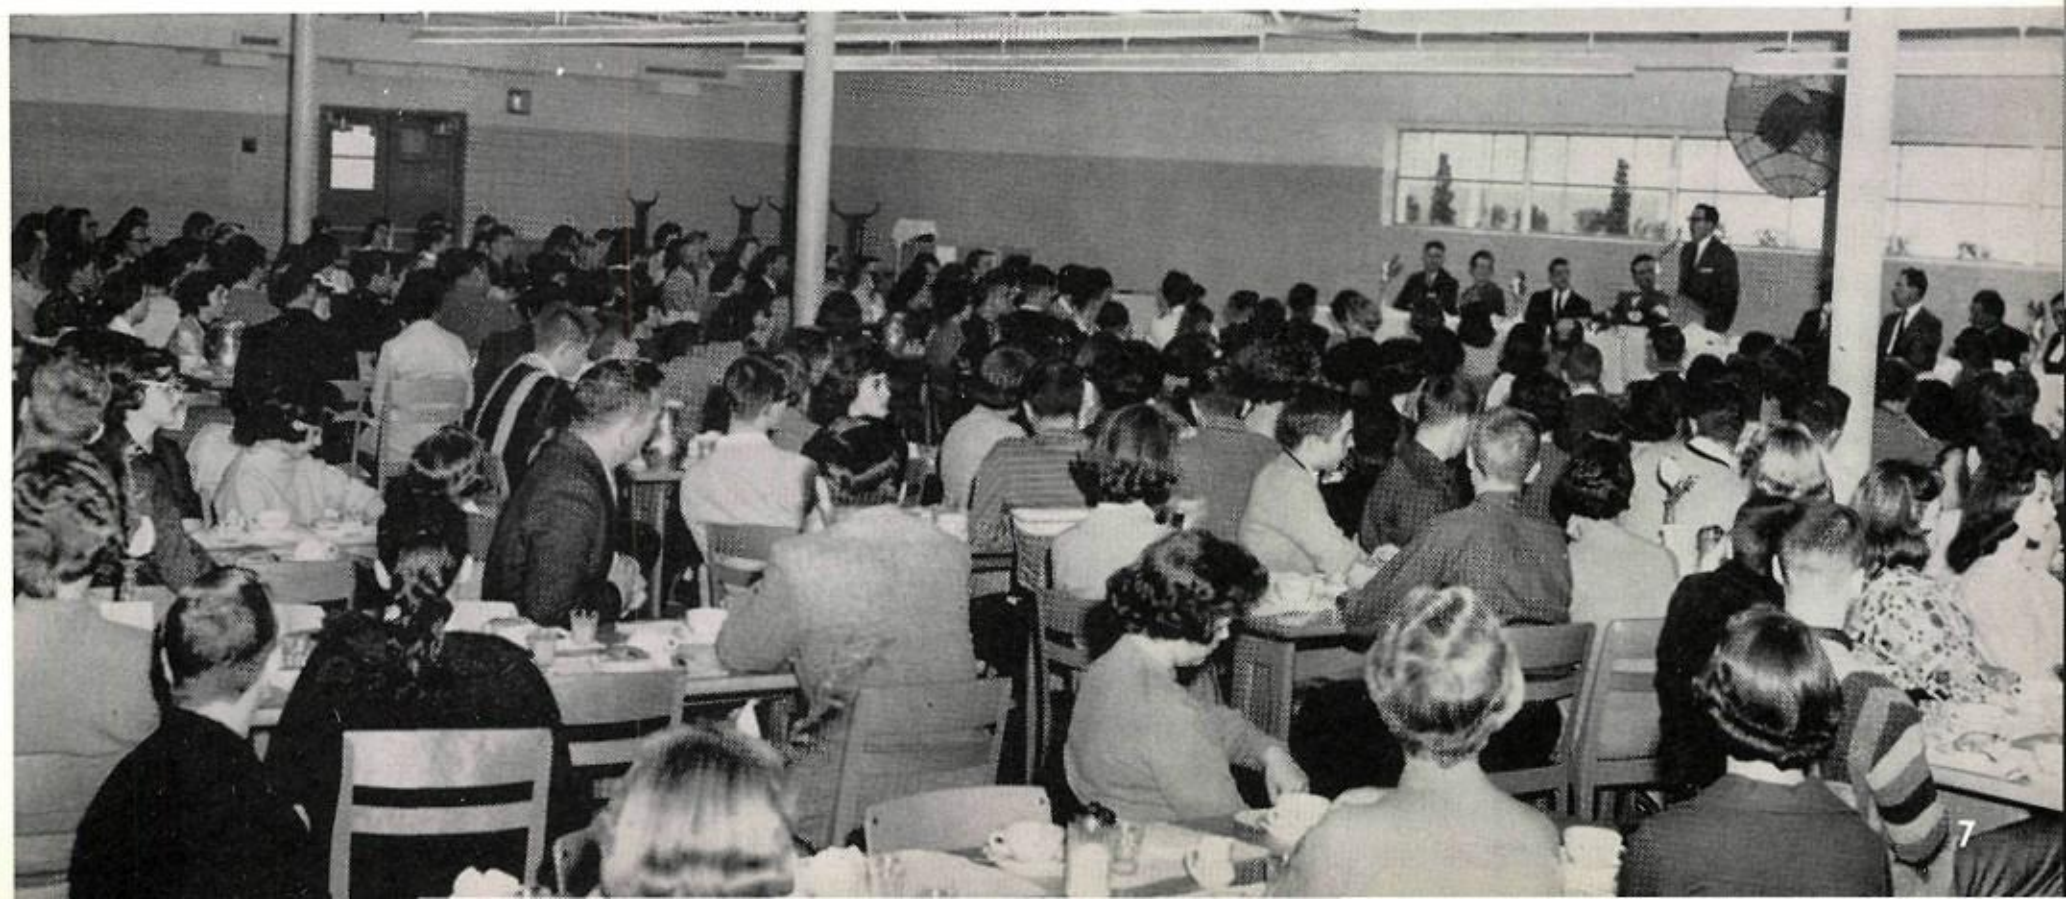

BREAKFAST...

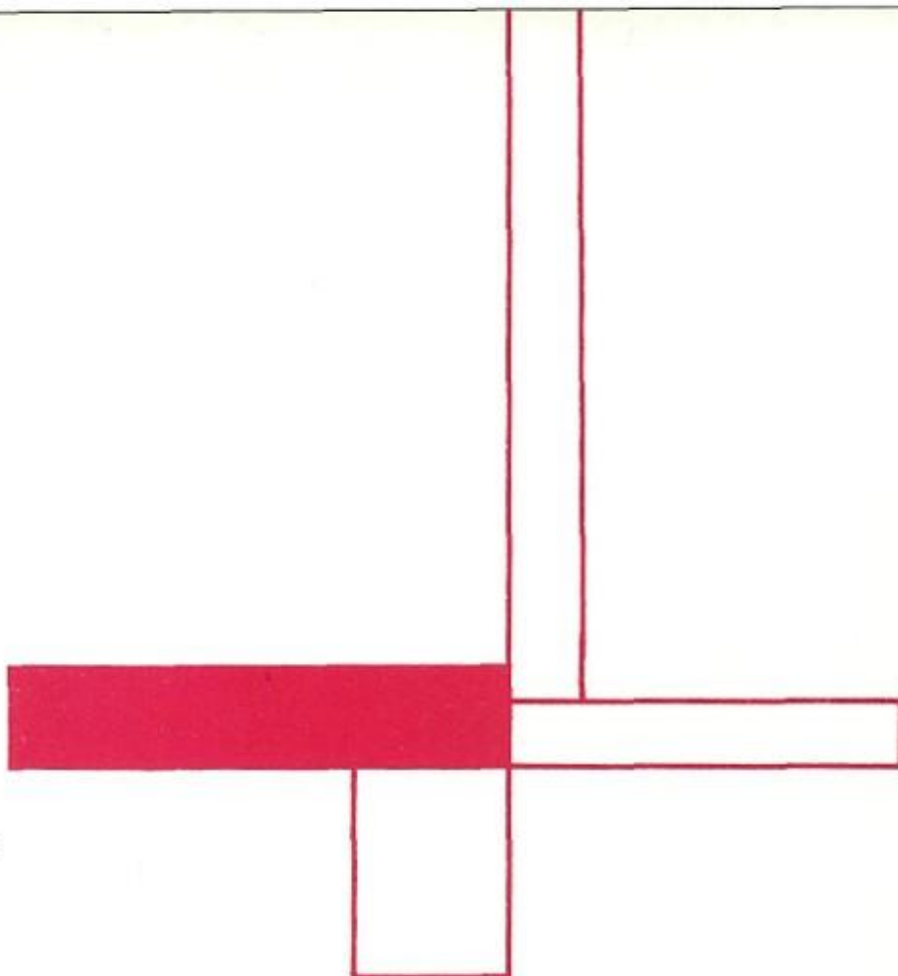

BROTHERHOOD BREAKFAST

The first Brotherhood Breakfast held at Edison was a great success with representatives from the other Tulsa high schools attending as well as many students and teachers from Edison.

Under the able direction of Jack Knippa, the program was quite interesting and informative and was enjoyed by all those who managed to make it to school at 7:30.

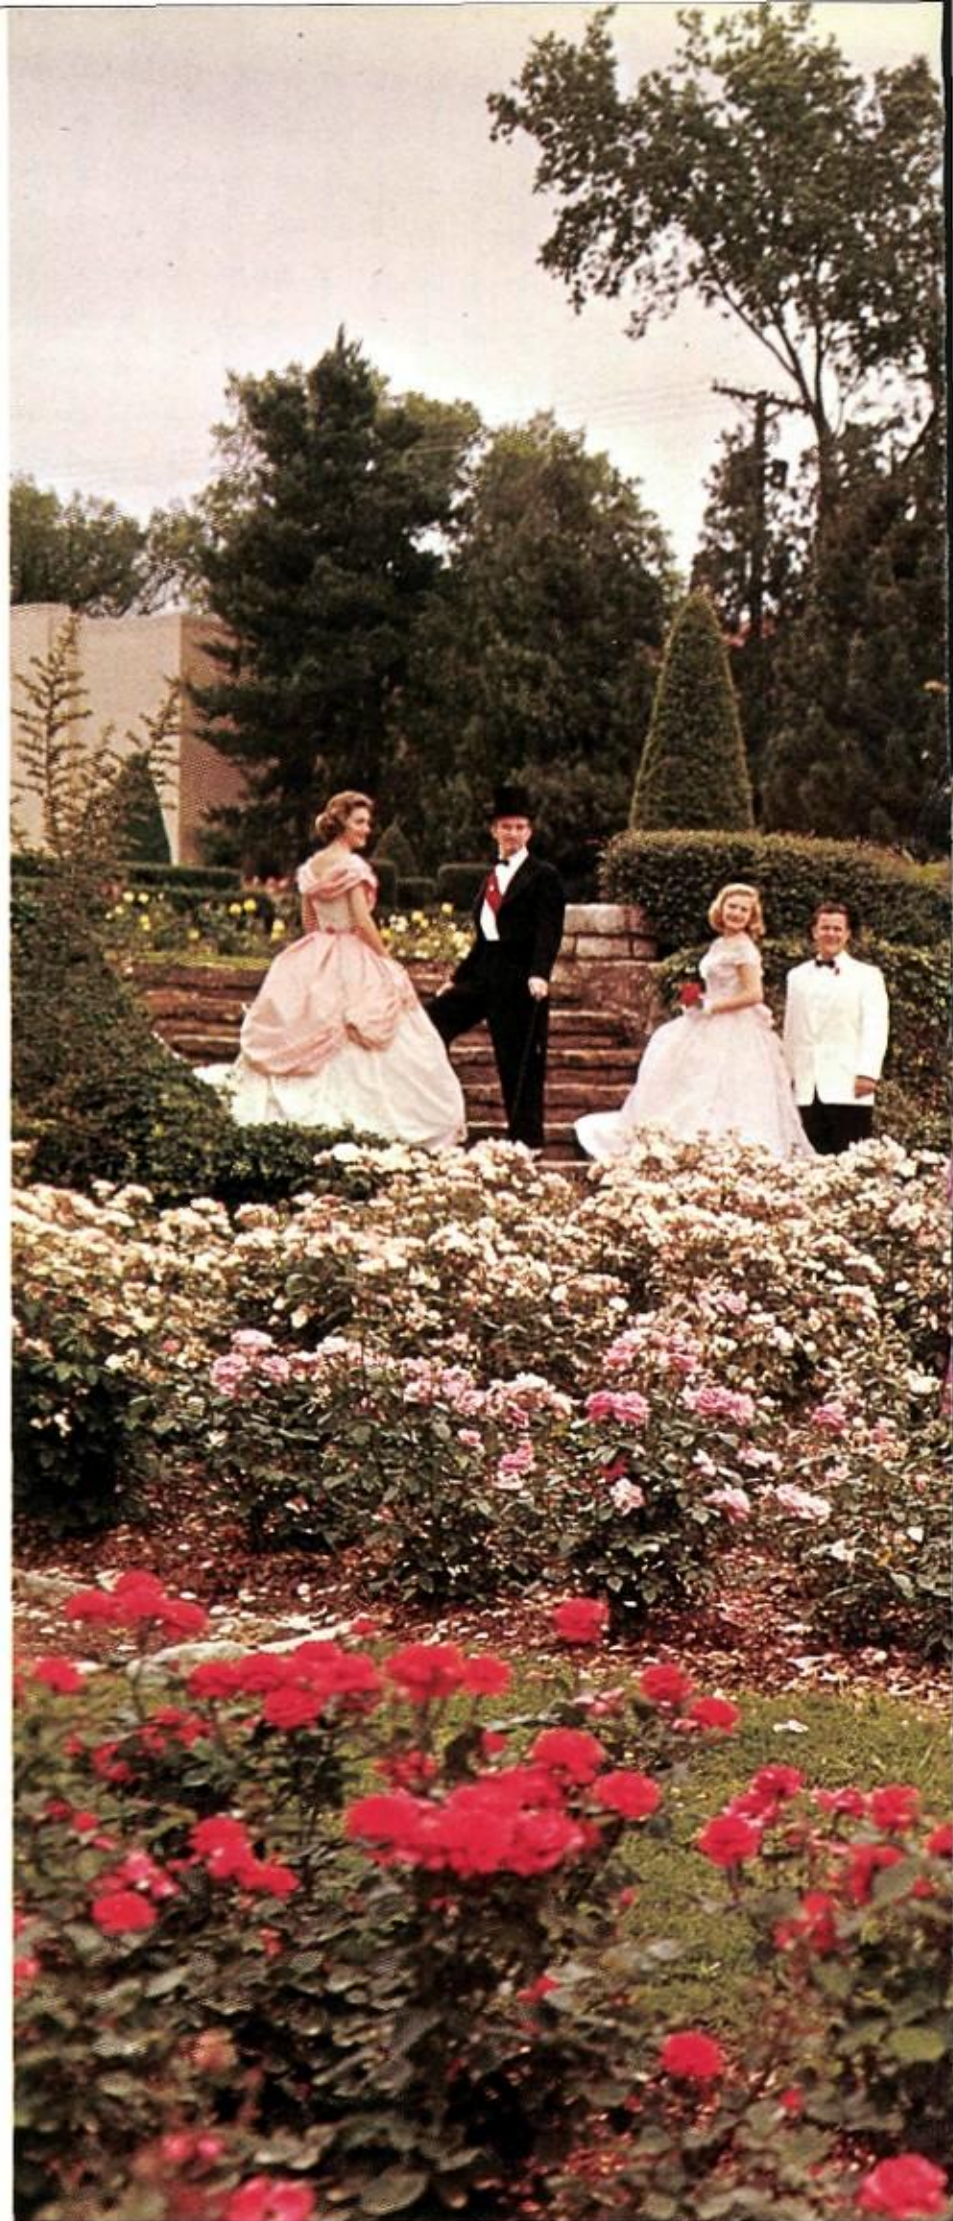

Last spring the Student Council again presented their Southern Ball for the student body. "The Emerald Queen," our elaborate river boat, was a great success and many beautiful belles and gentlemen crowded the lavish decks. At the end of the cruise, many enthusiastic guests were heard planning to book passage for another trip next spring.

This photograph shows a few of the guests strolling through the formal plantation garden just before boarding our imaginary boat.

Phil Atkinson was selected Captain of the Emerald Queen. He proved to be a very able guide for the trip. Tom Webb and Johnny Turner were the assistant co-captains.

DRAMATIC . . .

"LO AND BEHOLD"

"Lo and Behold," the first Speech Arts presentation, was a tremendous success. Van Smithen as Ken, the Mad Musician of Mount Ivy; Phyllis Bury as Honey, a ghostly southern liberal; Phil Atkinson as Milo, a wealthy author; and Jo Jeanne Rose as Daisy, maid and imposter, are shown here as four members of the talented cast.

Phyllis Bury, Phil Atkinson, Jerry Goodrich as Bob, a research doctor, and Letitia Skinner as Minnie, a spooky Ramapo Indian, are some of the cast members who acquired Thespian points for their participation in "Lo and Behold."

Although the production was only on the boards for three and a half weeks, it was generally agreed around the school that it was an outstanding Edison First. Cast members were Jo Jeanne Rose, Nathan Perry, Jerry Goodrich, Van Smithen, Phyllis Bury, Davis Metcalfe, Linda Perry, and Phil Atkinson who is seated.

PRODUCTIONS . . .

"GOOD NEWS"

Life in this college sorority house could never be dull with Sharon Kitrell, Judy Lively, Kathy Robinson, and Mary Ann Moyers as they prepare refreshments after the big football game.

The antics of Mary Ann kept the audience in stitches.

"Good News," a musical comedy, was produced by the sophomore class and was directed by Mr. Harold Marcum.

Pi Beta Phi girls are all set for the big football game of the year and their open house.

Tait College spirit was running high in the opening scene. This pep rally at the rise of the curtain set the pace for one of the finest productions Edison has had.

AN EXOTIC . . .

Right: "Chinatown" featured red and black coolie suits. Betsy Brooks, Jan Creekmore, Sally Livingston, Adrienne Stone, Nancy Stone, Susan Taylor, and Meredith McKee presented this colorful number.

Above: There was a real display of fireworks when the "Scintillating Sparks" made their appearance. They are Lou Ann McCullom, Donna McElroy, Sally Blocksom, Carolyn Axton, Brenda Baker, and Suzanne Perssons.

Right: These "Geisha Girls," Pam Neal, Vicki Hill, Suzanne Persson, Janet Whatley, Cindy Kershner, and Bev Constantine rivaled Madame Butterfly in charm.

WATER SHOW . . .

Left: "Samurai Skirmish" was done by Tanya Loucks, Fritzie Warren, Betsey Wienecke, Patt Corry, Lorraine Pratt, and Tucky March.

Bottom left: "Dragon Dilemma" featured lilac and white costumes on Fritzie Warren, Meredith McKee, Neta Fulcher, Sharon White, Bonnie Creekmore, and Sarah Dixon.

Bottom right: "Ladies of Jade," a study in brilliant green, was a polished production by Bonnie Creekmore, Jill Kremer, Betsey Wienecke and Kathy Barham.

"Girls' Nation," the annual style show, portrayed a group of girls at a convention in Florida. A pleasant patio scene emphasized the versatility of the girls' clothes.

As evening approached, the girls met their dates in crisp, cool cottons and were ready to enjoy a moonlight tropical evening.

A picturesque scene was when the girls in their unusual and attractive daytime dresses decorated the patio.

DREAM . . .

This is truly a "Girls' Nation." Their convention was held on the beautiful campus at "Edison, Florida." Members of the homemaking classes showed the clothes that they had made during the year. Their escorts were Edison Key Club members.

The main characters of the 9th Grade play which was adapted from the book, Onions In The Stew, are Bob Adams, Linda Rainwater, Gretchan LeMaster, David Hicks, and Judy Hendrickson.

AND A 9th GRADE PRODUCTION . . .

Below, Mike Hendrickson prepares to exterminate a nest of Yellow Jackets for his new love interest. Helping are Sherril Stone, Charles Plowman, and Bob Adams.

FOREWORD

THOMAS ALVA EDISON

Edison at work as a young man.

The goal of The Torch staff this year has been to show a definite correlation of the inventions of Thomas A. Edison and the application of them by Edison High School. We have tried to distinguish the pertinent need for these inventions through careful pairings of inventions and section.

As we progress through any day at Edison, we cannot help but encounter the fruits of his ambitions, fulfillments of his dreams. When Edison was perfecting the movie camera, could he possibly have foreseen the invaluable services this machine has rendered, not only as a great medium of entertainment, but also as a definite furtherance of education? Could he possibly have known that years after he had laboriously designed the megaphone, enthusiastic students would use this instrument to scream praises at a victorious athletic team?

Although the students of Edison are, in reality, only an infinitesimal part of the over-all employment of his inventions, they are, nonetheless, a major section through their undying loyalty to Edison as to a man and to Edison as a school.

DEDICATION

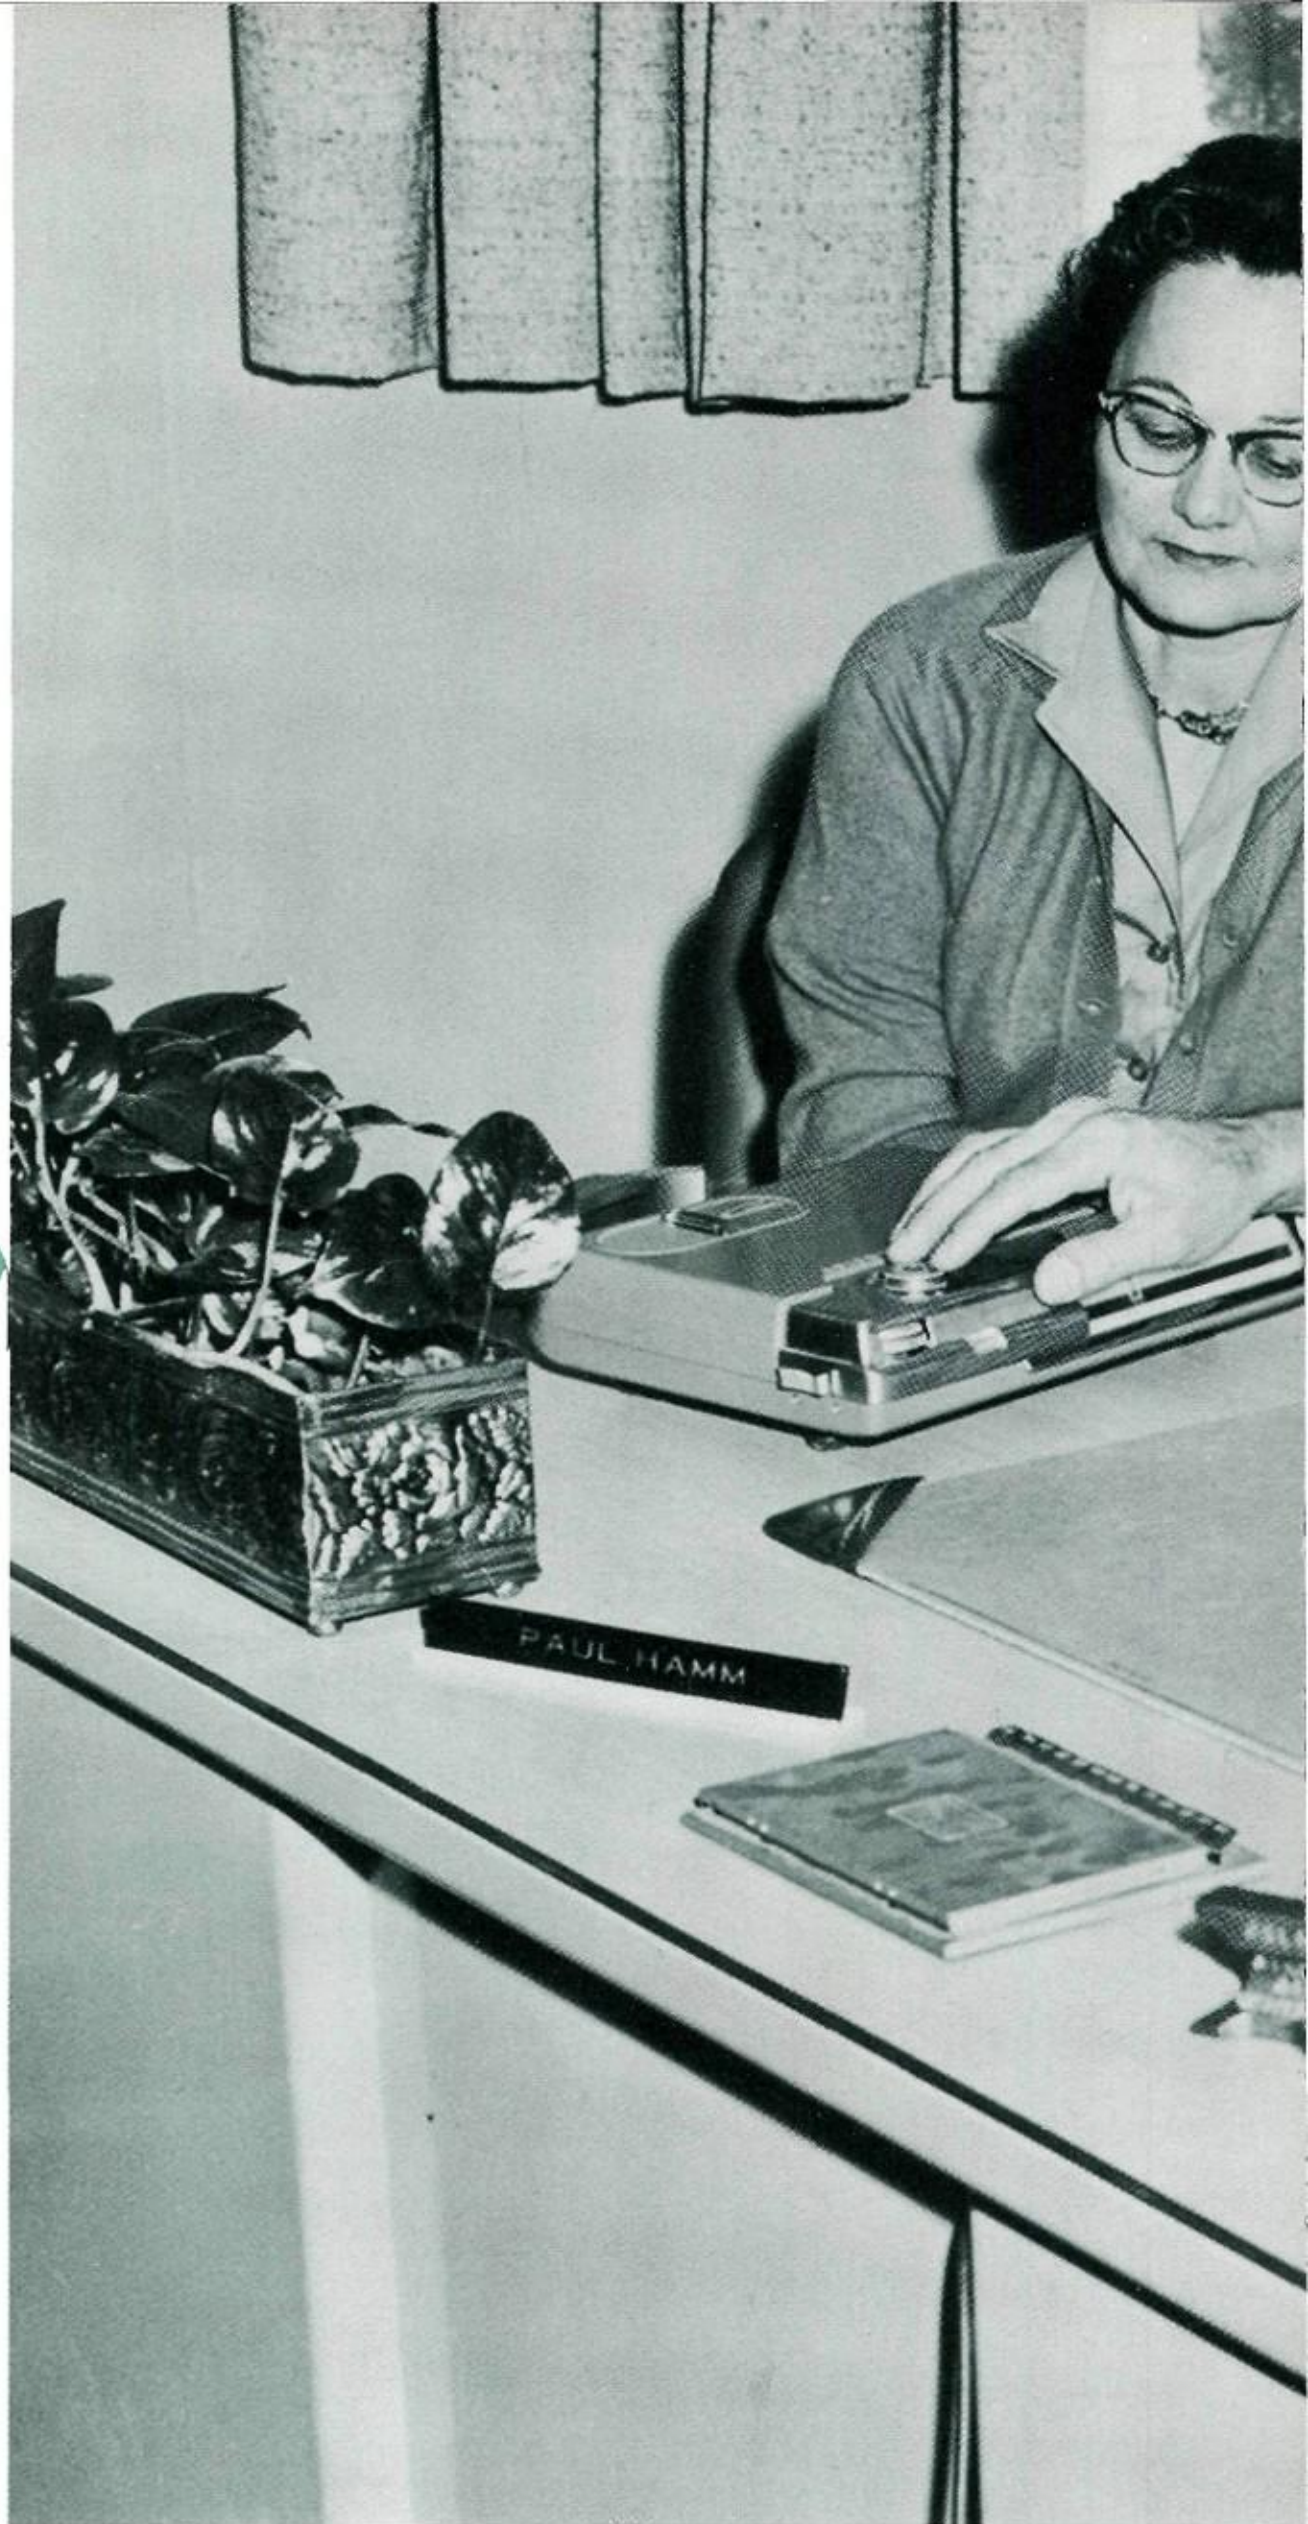

Many teachers in Edison deserve the honor of having the Torch dedicated to them, but one of these holds a special place in our hearts. Our special thanks go to Miss Berna Dean Morrow for the many long, but fruitful, hours she gave Edison as the yearbook advisor in 1957, 1958, and 1959. Not only has she served in preserving the memory of events through her work with the Torch, but she has also guided the Classes of 1958 and 1961 in making some of Miss Morrow helped set many of the traditions our other graduating classes have followed. Now, as sponsor of these memories. As the sponsor of our first graduating class, Class of 1961, she has become known as "The Great Play Giver" and is guiding her students to great accomplishments.

Yet the thing we love about Miss Morrow is not that she has been so active in guiding groups of students, although this is important. It is the fact that she is never too busy to sit down and help a student who comes to her with a problem. She loves young people and has dedicated her life to helping them and showing them the way to a better adult life.

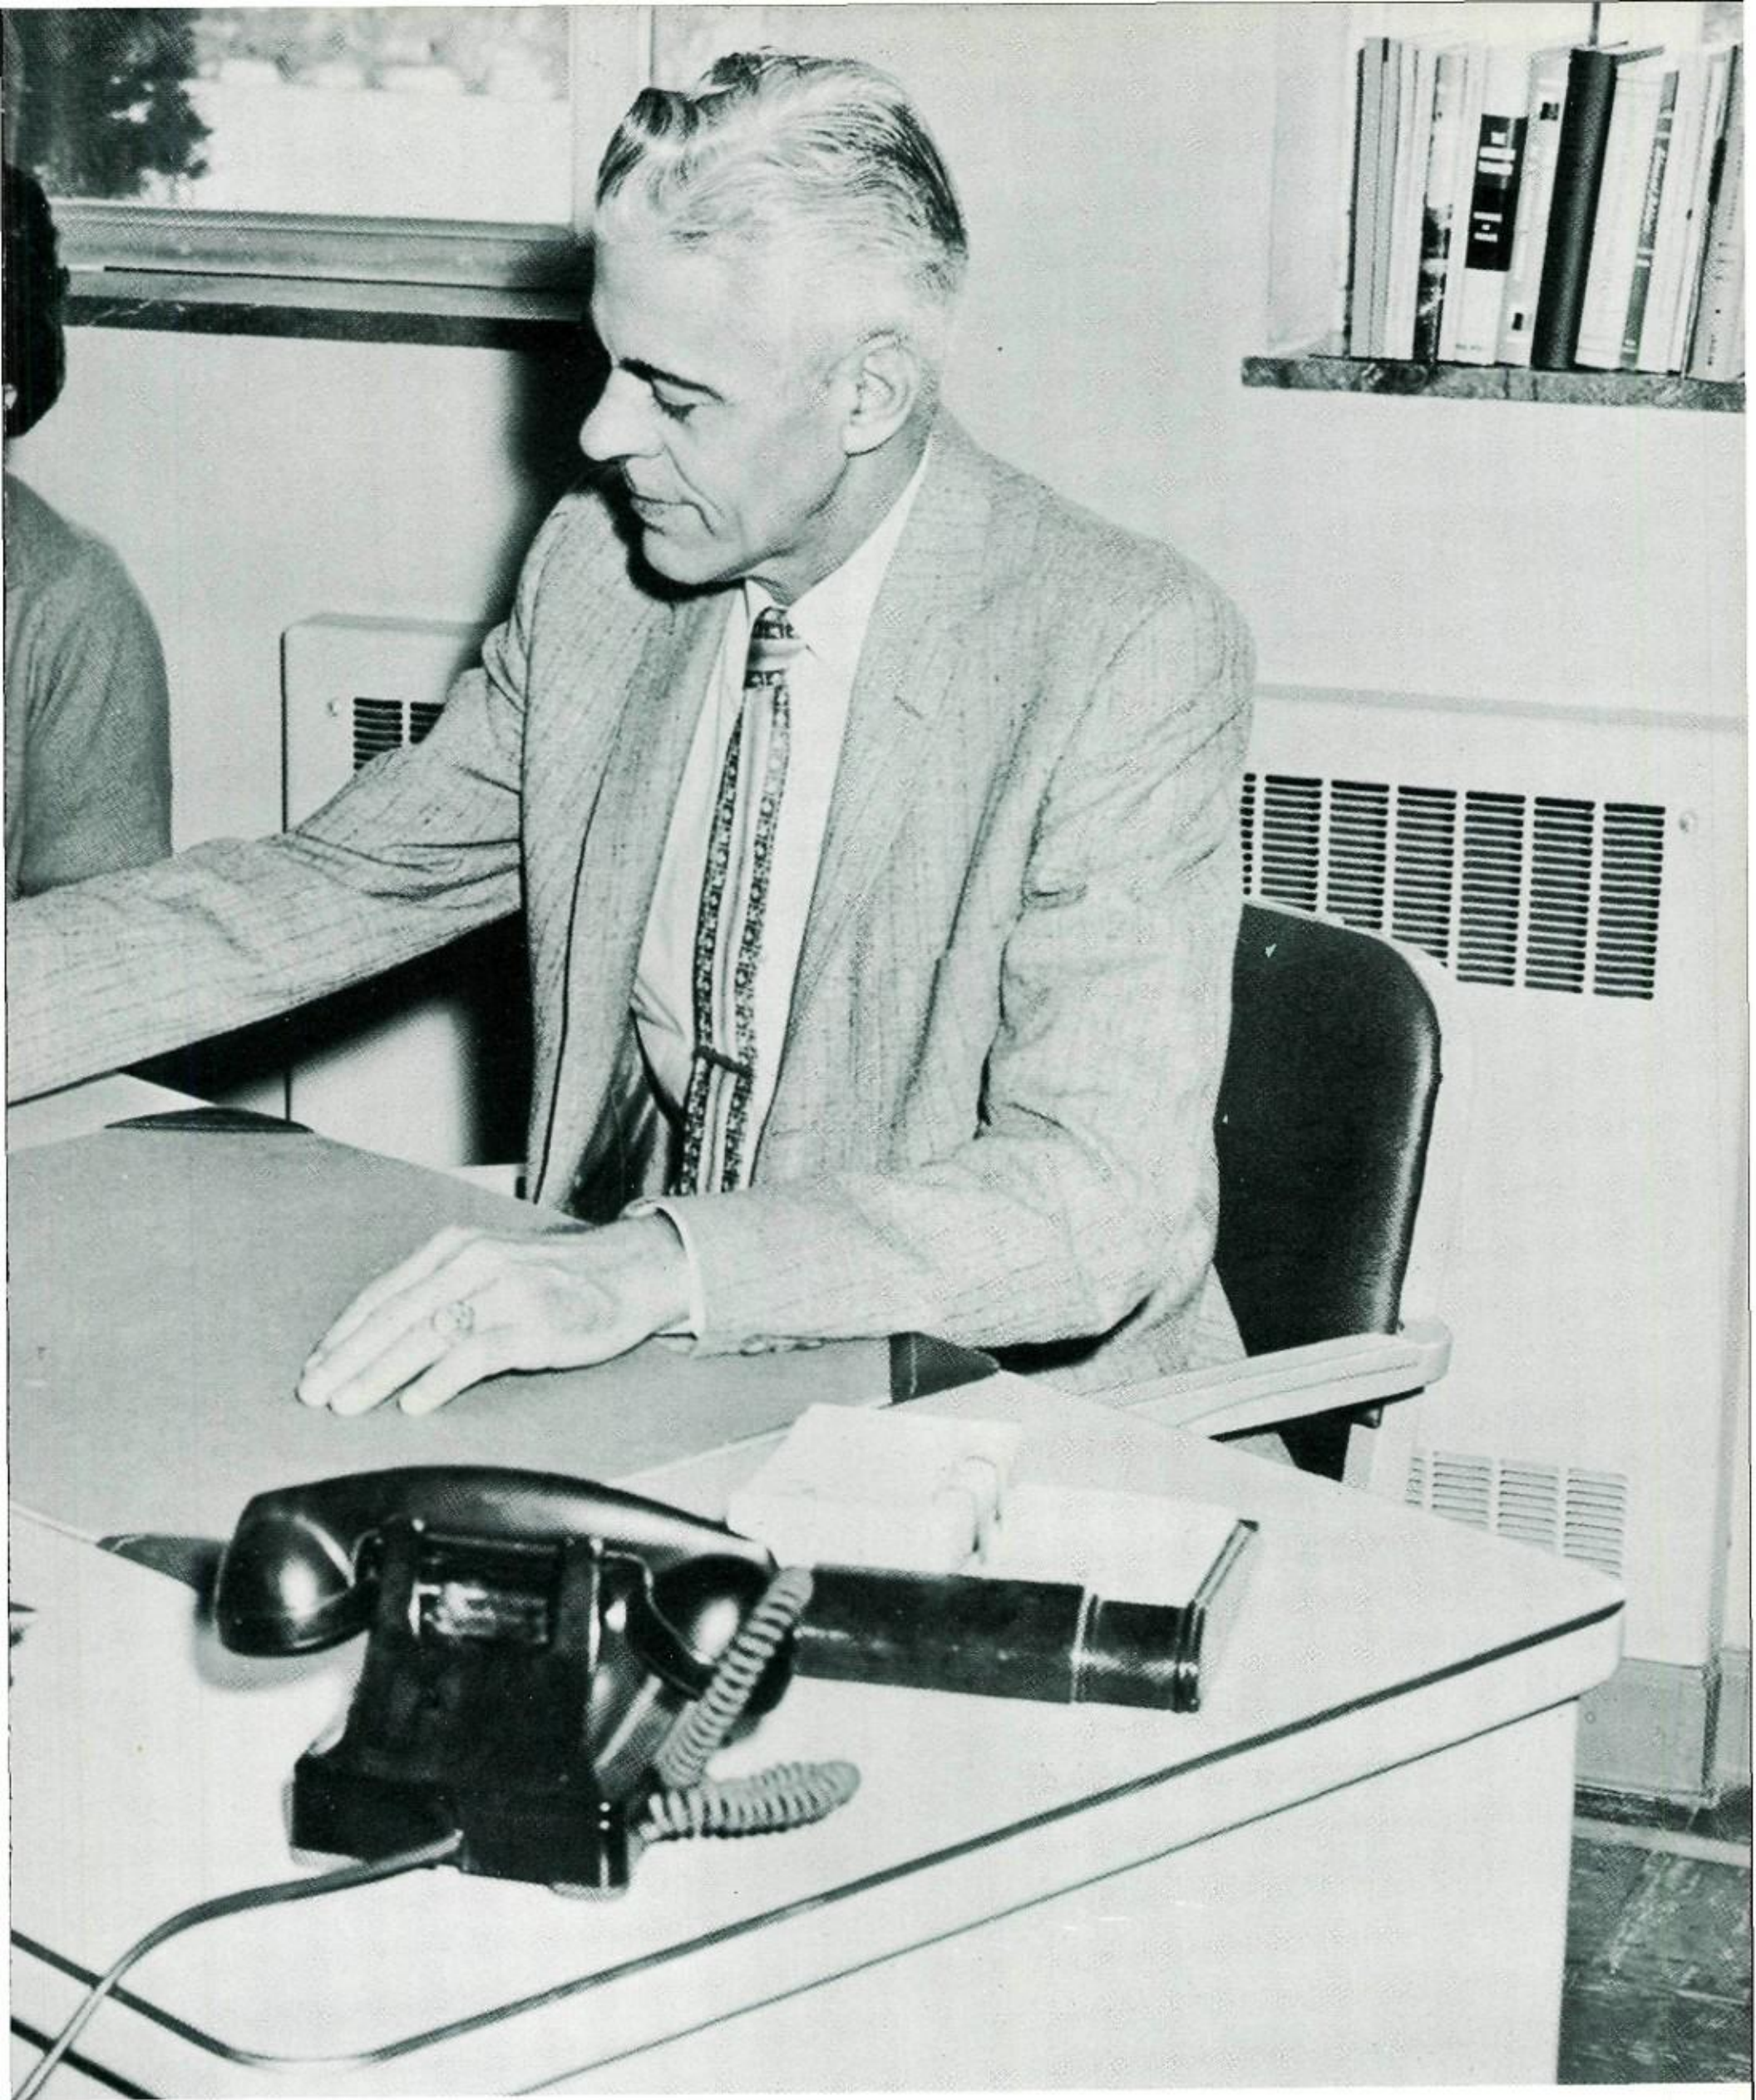

It is with gratitude and thanks that we dedicate this 1960 edition of the Torch to a beloved teacher and advisor, Miss Berna Dean Morrow.

A friend to everyone.

The dictating machine, another of Thomas Edison's brain children, has become an integral part of the business world. It is very useful at our school not only in the main offices, but also in our business education courses.

ADMINISTRATION

SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

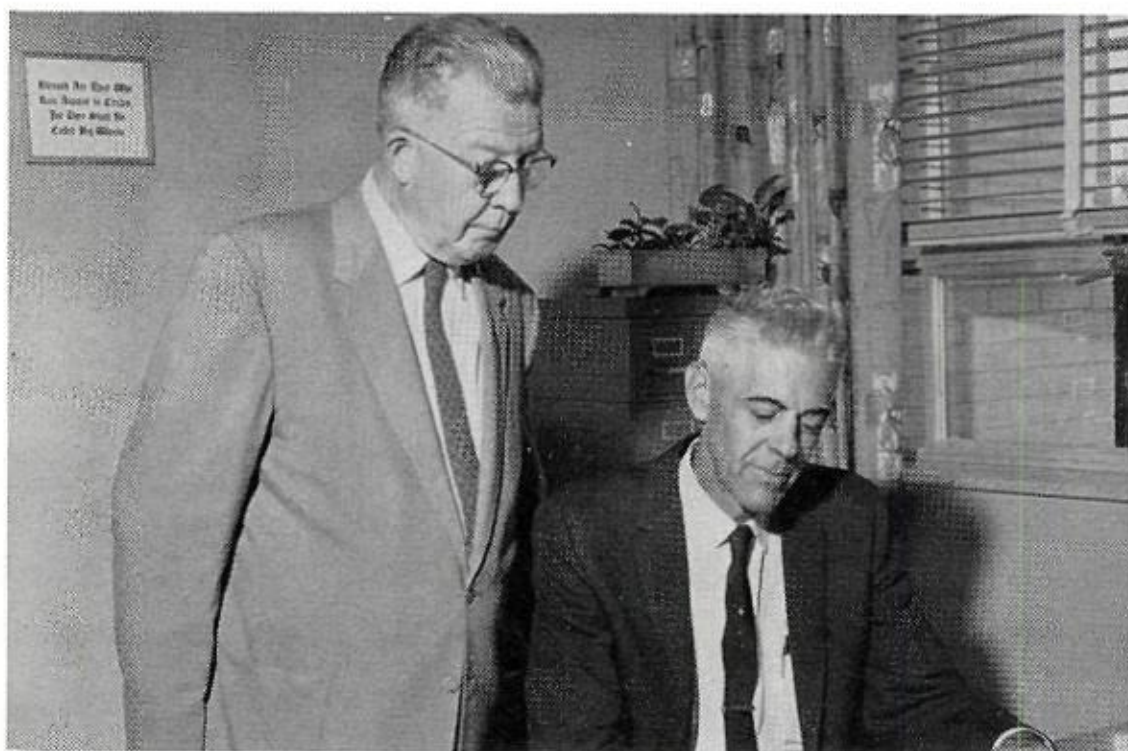

Dr. Mason makes last minute preparations for a speech at one of the various functions held at Edison.

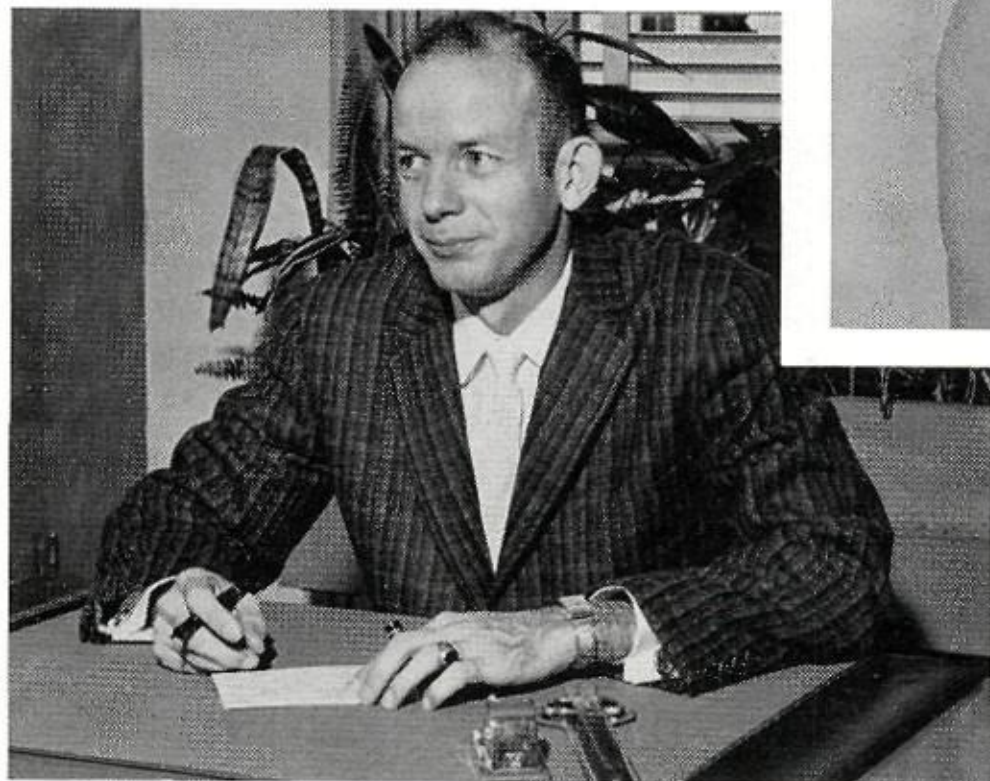

ADMINISTRATION

Without the fine administration Edison would not be the outstanding school it is today.

Mr. Edwin Bonde and Mr. Paul Hamm have taken the time-consuming jobs of dean of boys and assistant principal of the senior and junior high, respectively.

Mr. Roy Lewis is in charge of the painstaking task of working on the students' individual matters of scheduling, scholarship, and testing.

PTA OFFICERS

Left to right: Mrs. Jeff A. Smyth, delegate; Mrs. T. H. Gilbert, vice president; Mrs. A. H. McElroy, president; Mrs. Ralph D. Lynn, secretary; Mrs. W. W. Matney, treasurer.

Mr. Les Martin handles banking and co-op, two of the many extra benefits for students at Edison.

Mrs. Florence Weist, senior high dean of girls, and Mr. Russell Rathjens, ninth grade counselor, are always willing to help our students with their problems.

Mrs. Zoe White, junior high dean of girls and seventh grade counselor, and Mr. Dewey Williams, eighth grade counselor, have aided junior high students in preparing for their high school years.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

The students of Edison will be forever indebted to the Board of Education for the opportunity to attend Edison. Mr. H. G. Barnett, the president, and Mrs. J. Littleton Daniel, the vice president, lead this group in their fine work.

The best-known invention of Thomas Edison is the incandescent light and the electrical advances which were a result of this discovery. This advance is symbolic to the Edison student body of the light of knowledge we gain from our outstanding faculty.

FACULTY

Sue Johnson

Louise Todd

These art students are working diligently on their assigned projects.

Many varied and interesting art courses are offered at Edison for both the junior and senior high students. Beginning with the first basic art class, the scope of the curriculum in this subject includes painting, and commercial and advanced art. A student taking these courses will have a chance to work with all types of media and at the same time receive a resumé of art history.

Students in both departments participate in poster contests, the State Scholastic Awards Competition, and the National and International Humane Poster Contests. The art department is a great help to the School Life Staff, The Torch Staff, the sophomore Vignettes, and does scenery for the class plays.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The Business Department dedicates itself to providing its students with as much business acumen as is possible. There are three different values that a student interested in business may gain; these are college preparatory courses, job-preparation courses, and courses designed for practical use.

MUSIC

Our music department offers many varied courses which are a great asset to the students who plan to continue their music career in high school. The curriculum includes beginners' band, music, "A" band, "B" band, band I, band II, girls' glee club, boys' glee club, and "B" orchestra in the junior high.

Edison High prides itself on the outstanding music department which it has acquired in the past three years. The high school music department includes "A" orchestra, "A" band, "B" band, concert chorus, girls' glee club, mixed chorus, and theory and harmony.

"Hey you with the books! Are you sure that's music you're reading?"

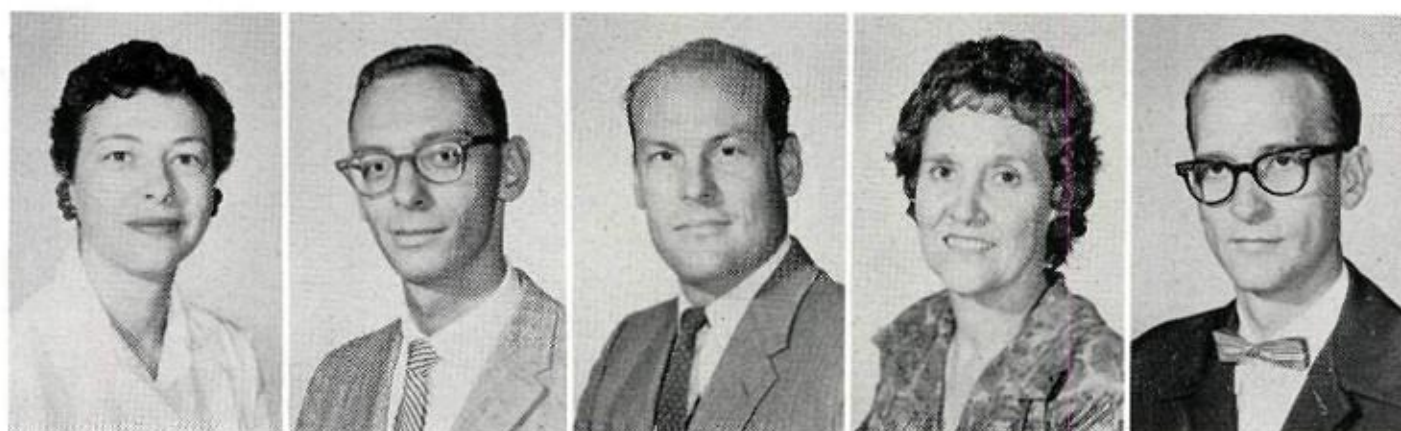

SPEECH

"Listen my children and you will hear . . .

Edison's first speech course is offered in the seventh grade; there is also an elective speech course offered in the ninth grade. This course is aimed at genuine communication such as, voice and body communication. These students are taught to use speech mechanisms effectively, to use extensive vocabulary, and to speak extemporaneously.

The high school speech curriculum begins with speech fundamentals which includes all of the general areas of speech. The second year of speech is primarily an emphasis on interpretation of good literature. The speech department also includes a debate course and a stagecraft class.

Nobody can say our faculty doesn't have coffee breaks!

In order to learn to appreciate the beauty of the world around us, create a sympathetic understanding of peoples of all parts of the world, and better understand ourselves, we study the works of literary masters as part of our English course. American literature is studied in the tenth grade, English literature in the eleventh, and World literature in the twelfth. Elective English courses include speech, debate, yearbook, and journalism. Composition and grammar are taught at all grade levels in order that students may use correct English, acquire a more extensive vocabulary, learn to develop ideas and draw conclusions, and improve listening and conversational habits.

When junior high students enter high school, they are equipped with a knowledge of the basic English language. They are well prepared for the general English courses and advanced English courses. In the seventh grade the students receive essentials in grammar which includes a study of diagramming, vocabulary, and spelling. Eighth grade students receive an extensive study of grammar, vocabulary, and spelling. In the ninth grade the students begin reading novels and preparing for high school English courses.

When Edison opened, we had a one-track mathematics program, but due to the increased demands of our students for a better background in this field, we have evolved a double track program with variations to fit the individual student's needs. Edison offers mathematics courses such as algebra 1, 2, 3, and 4, plane geometry, solid geometry, and trigonometry. Advanced courses are SMSG 10 (plane and solid geometry), SMSG 11 (trigonometry and college algebra), SMSG 12 (trigonometry and matrix algebra), and analytics and calculus.

Our SMSG courses are supervised by the National Science Foundation and written at Yale University.

A student may progress into the advanced program by attending summer school one or two summers.

Seventh graders at Edison can embark on any one of the three tracks or groups of math courses offered in the math department. The first of these groups includes arithmetic in the seventh and eighth grades, and general math in the ninth.

The majority of Edison students choose to follow the second track. This is composed of arithmetic in the seventh and eighth grades, and algebra 1 and 2 in the ninth. The third and final track begins preparing the students for advanced math courses in senior high. It includes arithmetic in the seventh grade, algebra 1 and 2 in the eighth grade and algebra 3 and 4 in the ninth.

In keeping with the philosophy of the science department in Tulsa Public Schools, Edison continues the "K-12" program (kindergarten through twelfth grade) and junior and senior high school courses are built upon the background gained in the lower grades. Science at Edison begins with general science in junior high and progresses through two years of biology and chemistry, one year of physics, one semester of psychology, one semester of physiology, and other general sciences.

It is the aim of the junior high social studies department to help each student to achieve a firm foundation in history on which he or she can rely for further use in high school, college, and later life. Through the effective program of United States history, geography, and civics during the junior high years, the student is required to exercise all types of skills and aptitudes.

The senior high department offers a more varied and elective program and covers a greater span of time. Students have a choice of ancient and medieval, modern, and world history, and economics and government. Lectures are given at the American Forum by authorities in many areas of American life, and students are allowed a question and answer period afterwards.

Edison's foreign language courses begin in the seventh grade for the students who are extremely interested in languages. Conversational French and Spanish are offered to seventh and eighth grade students. The foreign language department in the junior high offers three years of Spanish and French and one year of Latin in the ninth grade. Any student who has not had Conversational French or Spanish may take regular French 1 and 2 or Spanish 1 and 2 in the ninth grade.

The high school foreign language department takes up where the junior high ends. A student with three years of French or Spanish behind him may continue the same language for three more years in high school. Edison offers six consecutive years of French and Spanish and four consecutive years of Latin.

Miss Clark's second hour students are shown performing one of the many modern dances they have learned this year.

Both junior and senior high school physical education departments have a wide variety of activities. The girls have sports, which stimulate an interest and joy in playing games, swimming, which teaches enough proficiency to feel secure and safe in water, modern dance, which teaches a personalized medium of communicative expression, and individual activities, which takes care of each individual according to her particular needs and capacities.

HOME ECONOMICS

The homemaking department of Edison junior-senior high school is a carefully integrated one. Seventh through twelfth grade instructors plan and work together to teach basic skills and principles of their subject, and to develop a scientific approach to problem-solving. The chief aims of the homemaking program are to provide the student a wholesome philosophy, basic knowledge and skills vital to successful family and community life, both now and in the future, and to point toward opportunities in the home economics' profession.

Personal development classes inform students of college and job requirements, and acquaint them with the careers in which they are interested, and for which they are fitted.

— Our physical education department, both junior and senior high, is designed to develop the boys who participate in this program. The junior high has a well-rounded program which includes flag football, basketball, swimming, and a variety of other team and individual sports. The senior high courses stress the finer points of the different sports. The sixth hour gym classes (competitive) have turned out many excellent athletes this year.

Both the junior and senior high industrial arts departments offer many varied and interesting courses. The junior high program offers rich exploratory experiences to all the seventh and eighth grade boys. The program consists of a sequence of courses in general drawing, electricity, woodwork, metal, printing, and handicrafts. The senior high program includes basic architectural and machine drafting, one year of electricity, radio, and auto mechanics, and three years of woodworking.

Ted Larkin and Pat Davis are very serious about their work in drafting.

During World War I Thomas Edison contributed much of his time and talents to the research involved with chemical warfare. These representatives of the student body are working together to follow the example of striving toward knowledge that was set by the man for whom we are named.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

After an exciting campaign and close election, these Juniors emerged victorious to lead their class through a busy year. They are doing a bang-up job and seem to be determined to make the 1959-60 school year the best for the class of '61. Left to right are Dave Curnutt, president; Betsey Wienecke, social chairman; Fred Slicker, vice president; Jan Jones, secretary; Ronnie Marsh, treasurer.

JUNIOR BOARD

The Junior Class Board has had a big job this year. Not only have they handled the usual class activities such as mixers, the play, "Bells Are Ringing," and the Valentine dance, but they have also had the added task of beginning to plan and prepare for their senior year. They have been busy kids, but anyone would tell you all the work was worth it. Pictured left to right are, first row, Kathy Shapiro, Cissy Cohn, Sigrid Sundvahl, Sue Ann

JUNIOR ACTIVITIES

A thing of beauty is a joy forever.

Sell those tickets!

"Going to Kansas City . . .?"

After strict interrogation, five emerged as finalists for the Foreign Exchange student from Edison. They are, left to right, Anne Williams, Gay Matlocks, Ron Roberts, Elaine Ruggles, and Peggy White.

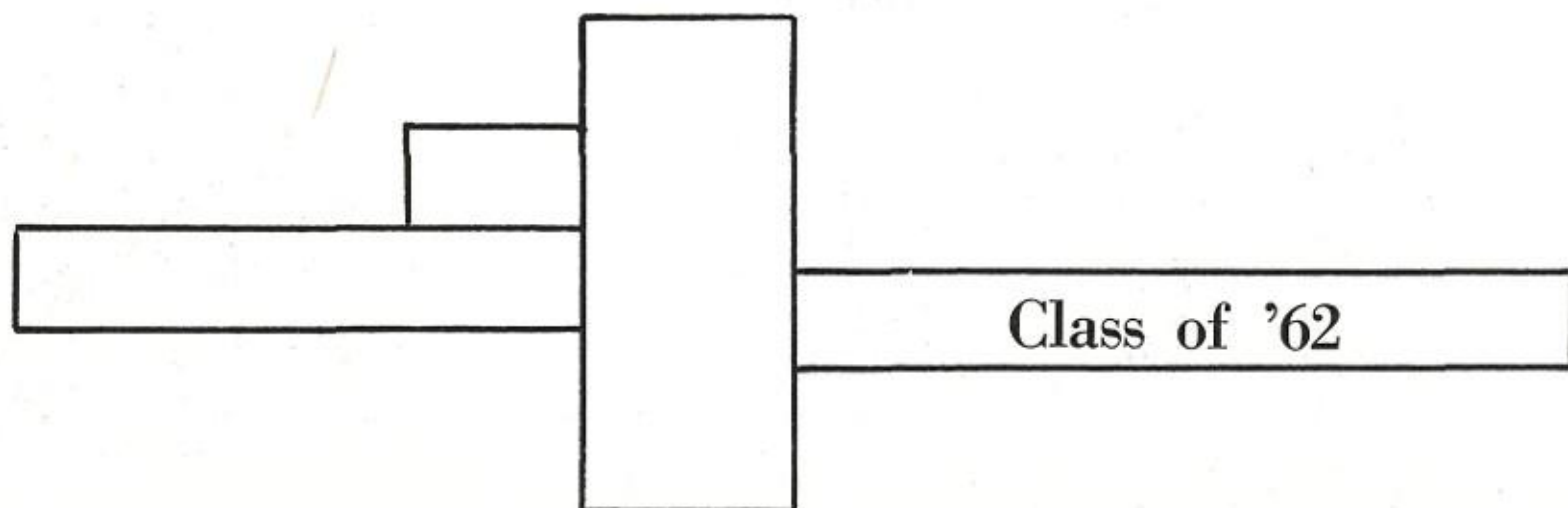

Nervously awaiting election returns.

The first year in high school is always a busy one and the students pictured above have the added task of leading their classmates toward the best possible year. The

The Freshman Class has participated in many activities this year. Under the superb leadership of Jim Mayden, president; Nancy Mullendore, vice president; Judy Waters, secretary; and Shirley Wilson, treasurer; the Freshman Class has sponsored a play, a dance, and a clean-up Edison campaign. They have great potential which is indicative in their choice of leaders and are waiting with immense anticipation for the day when they will become full-fledged sophomores.

EIGHTH GRADE OFFICERS

As these young students descend the stairway to a fruitful year, they must be thinking of the tasks that lie before them and the leadership they must display.

Chosen by their classmates to serve as

SEVENTH GRADE OFFICERS

Alan Fedman, seated, the seventh grade president raises a laugh from his fellow officers when he reminds them of some of the good times they have had this past year while serving their classmates. They worked hard to make their first year in Junior High School a success for everyone. The other officers are, from left to right, Gaye Aarant, treasurer; Sherry Simpson, secretary; and Norman Lively, vice president.

Chicken in every pot.

The four-message machine, which was invented by Thomas Edison, seems to be quite representative of the organizations at Edison. Each is continually busy and in some cases a four-message machine would come in handy. The students in the picture are observing how this invention works.

ORGANIZATIONS

SENIOR HIGH STUDENT COUNCIL

Student affairs at Edison are handled largely by the STUDENT COUNCIL. Through participation in student government, student council members and officers learn to be leaders in a democracy. The homeroom and class representatives, members-at-large, committee chairmen, and officers who serve on the Student Council benefit not only themselves from their leadership responsibilities, but the entire student body as well.

"Education for Democracy" was the theme of the nineteenth annual Federation of Oklahoma High School Student Councils' convention for which our council was host. Students from all over Oklahoma who attended the convention lauded our council, secretary-treasurer of the Federation, for a fine job. We were also president of the Inter-city Council. Other activities included the annual canned goods drive, which this year netted over 24,000 cans, the Brotherhood Breakfast to which students from all of the Tulsa high schools were invited, the publishing of "Edison Calling" — the student directory, the revision of "The Guiding Light"—the student handbook, and the sponsoring of our first foreign exchange student. Student Council conducts the elections of class officers, Miss Edison, Boys-and-Girls-of-the-Month, the Basketball Queen, and the Boy-and-Girl-of-the-Year.

During early February the riotous antics and serious appreciations of "Edison Week" were sponsored by Council. Each spring its Southern Ball is looked forward to with great anticipation. It is the hope of the Edison Student Council that each student participate fully and derive the maximum benefits of Council activities.

OUR MARCHING BAND

THE PRIDE OF EDISON

Edison is known all over the city for its fine marching band. In their snappy green and white uniforms, they promote school spirit by marching at football games and in parades.

Under the fine leadership of their director, Mr. Richard Cox, the band turns out many polished performances. Wayne Rice struts before the band for his second year. Majorettes who add sparkle to the performances are Sharon Fletcher, Kathy Johnson, and Carol Foster. An added attraction this year is majorette Connie Smith who won a national twirling contest.

Many members of the Marching Band are also members of the Concert Band pictured on pages 168 and 169.

The moving picture industry has become a big business since the day Thomas Edison invented the movie camera. The queens in the picture are reviewing some of the results of this invention and are pleased with what they see. Movies provide great enjoyment for us and are used educationally as well.

EAGLES IN ACTION

A little known fact about Thomas Edison is that he made improvements on the telephone. This instrument plays an integral part in the work of one of the busiest groups at Edison, the stagecraft boys.

ACTIVITIES

TORCH STAFF

Lee Clark, editor of the Torch, has been the mainspring of this year's production. Her loyalty, cheerfulness, and hard work have spurred staff members on to meet all deadlines. Every idea was discussed with Lee and gained her approval before it became part of the Torch. Many bouquets of roses go to her for an impressive job.

These members help the editor of the Torch solve many problems. Without them the rest of the staff would have been at a loss when it came to the many many problems we had. They are, left to right, Cindy Frazier, publicity manager; Mark Clasby, assistant editor; Mrs. Virginia Runnels, sponsor; and Marty McGinnis, assistant editor.

Deadlines, deadlines, and more deadlines are the chief worries of the staff. Here some of the members are discussing a layout and writing copy for it. We all had more than enough work to do in order to meet the deadlines. Members are, left to right, Eloise Janssen, Kathey Keeter, Ruth Henderson, and Ronnie Roberts.

Planning which pictures will go in the various sections of the Torch is a big task. Marilyn, Axton, Linda Wise, Melanie Cochran, and Vic Groves are pictured working hard at this job. Though preparing the Torch has been a great deal of work, it has provided a lot of laughs and good times also.

Pictures, pictures, pictures, and more pictures! John Davis has taken the large responsibility of providing the Torch with many of the pictures it contains and he has proved quite competent. Thanks, John, we couldn't do without you.

SENIOR HIGH

OFFICE ASSISTANTS

The senior high office assistants are a group of girls who assist with the general office routine.

They are selected on the basis of scholarship, leadership, citizenship, and personality.

Helping the librarian, Miss Bethel DeLay, teachers, and students, are the main duties of the library assistants. Between two and four girls are on hand every hour to help Miss DeLay maintain an efficient library.

CO-OP AND SENIOR HIGH LIBRARY ASSISTANTS

Working one-half day for the school and attending classes the other, the co-ops attain distinction for their long hours of service in the main office, counselor's office, and gymnasium. Their work is greatly appreciated by all concerned.

JUNIOR HIGH LIBRARY AND OFFICE ASSISTANTS

The office staff of the junior high were glad to have the help of these capable and hard-working girls. They helped the staff to keep things running smoothly during this past year.

During the past year these students have assisted the junior high librarian, Miss Boatright, helping her to maintain a tidy and efficient library.

SCHOOL LIFE STAFF

Those responsible for the fine coverage in Tulsa School Life Edison has received this year are Frances Tabor, co-editor; Mrs. Virginia Runnels, sponsor; and Carolyn Earley, co-editor.

Two Sophomores Take In Edison Freedom Foundation Fair

Under the superb leadership of Mrs. Norma Mitchell, the well-liked American History teacher, last year the Freedom Foundation Fair was acclaimed to be a huge success. This year we are looking forward to another outstanding display from the ingenious history students.

Anne Haley Wins In National Science Fair

Last spring with Mrs. Jones as supervisor, the Edison Science Fair was a tremendous success. Participating were the future scientists of tomorrow, who entered projects in the biological and physical science fields. All attained great satisfaction of a job well done. This year we are anticipating great things on all levels of competition from the industrious science students.

Work, work, and more work is the by-word for these boys and girls in stagecraft. They do all the sets, scenery, and final touches for plays, assemblies, and special programs. Many thanks go to these hardworking students and their director, Mr. Dave Crowell. Members are, left to right, first row, Diana Steinle, Terri Blanchard, Laurie Neerman, Dave Crowell. Second row, Wayne Parker, Ronald Peterson, Tim Spore, Jay Witter, Mike Murphy, Gerald Dye. Third row, Norman Kiersey, Larry Penn, George Castle, Jack Schreffler, Mike Pearl, Jim Loftin. Fourth row, David Gurthet, Mickey Fike, Tom Poss, Sanford Hall, Robert McGinniss, Dick Boggs, Morgan Gurthet.

STAGECRAFT AND AUDIO-VISUAL

Today education is put on a more visual-aid basis. These audio-visual boys make it possible for the teachers to use the fine equipment. These boys are trained to operate movie projectors, tape recorders, and slide projectors. They are responsible for the smooth running department. Members are, left to right, Jerry Kyle, Bob Martin, Vern Hawkins, Steve Matthies, Randy Morlan, Tommy Coe.

TALONS

The Edison High School Pep Club has been true and faithful throughout the year to the many, excellent Eagle teams. Each game-day during the football season, the halls were filled with girls wearing their green and white uniforms. Similarly, their enthusiastic support of the winter and spring sports contributed valuably to the fine records our teams amassed. At Edison, as in all history, behind all great men, there are women.

TALON COUNCIL

Edison's Liberty Belles, a fine marching drill team, is composed of loyal and eager Edisonites. It was the first group of its type in the city of Tulsa and performs during the half time at football games along with the band. They also march in parades and lend their color to the basketball games.

This group encourages citizenship and loyalty to their school by giving points for different activities and awards to the outstanding members. Their sponsor is Miss Charlene Clark.

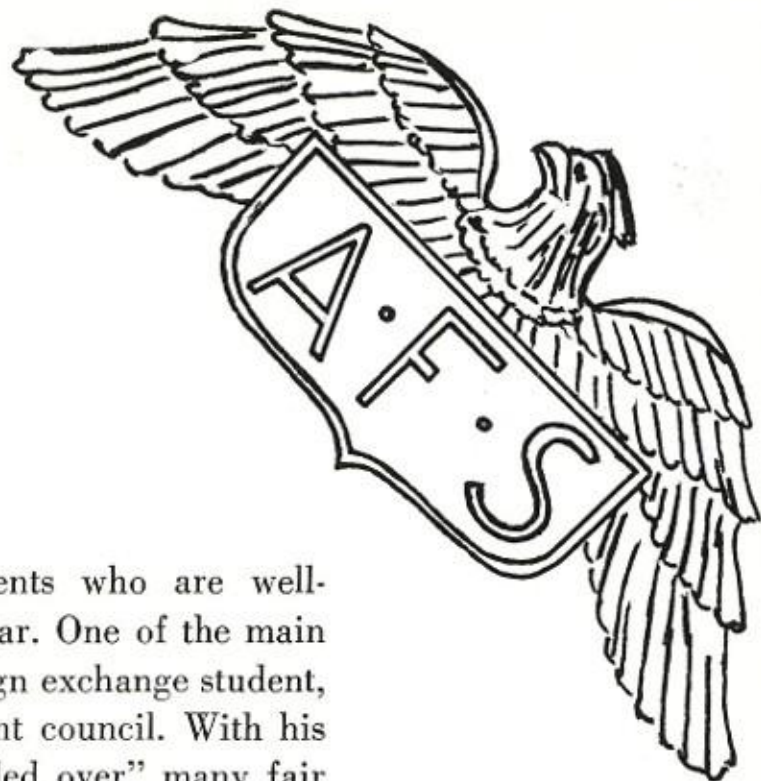

Three cheers for these girls! They have done a stupendous job of promoting spirit and enthusiasm for all of the many athletic events in which Edison participates. Familiar to all of us are, Nancy Stone, Fritzie Warren, seated, and standing, left to right, Janet Knippa, Judy Pennington, Mary Ann Bell, Sally Livingston, Susan Bush, and Tucky March.

CHEERLEADERS

Guess who!! Our canine friend, Pancho, has an unequalled position in the halls of Edison High. Pancho is looking forward to graduation next year, but he may return for graduate work. Glenna Morgan is one of his favorite girlfriends.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENT

The American Field Service sponsors students who are well-qualified to act as teenage ambassadors for a year. One of the main attractions at Edison this year was our first foreign exchange student, Esben Schake, who was sponsored by the student council. With his blue eyes and fair complexion, Esben has "bowled over" many fair Edisonites. Some of his many extracurricular activities include student council, senior board, and Key Club. He also enjoys the Little Theatre and other cultural interests. We hope that when Esben returns to Copenhagen he will have a favorable impression of the American way of life.

Even Foreign Exchange students must study.

Esben portrays a spy in the senior play.

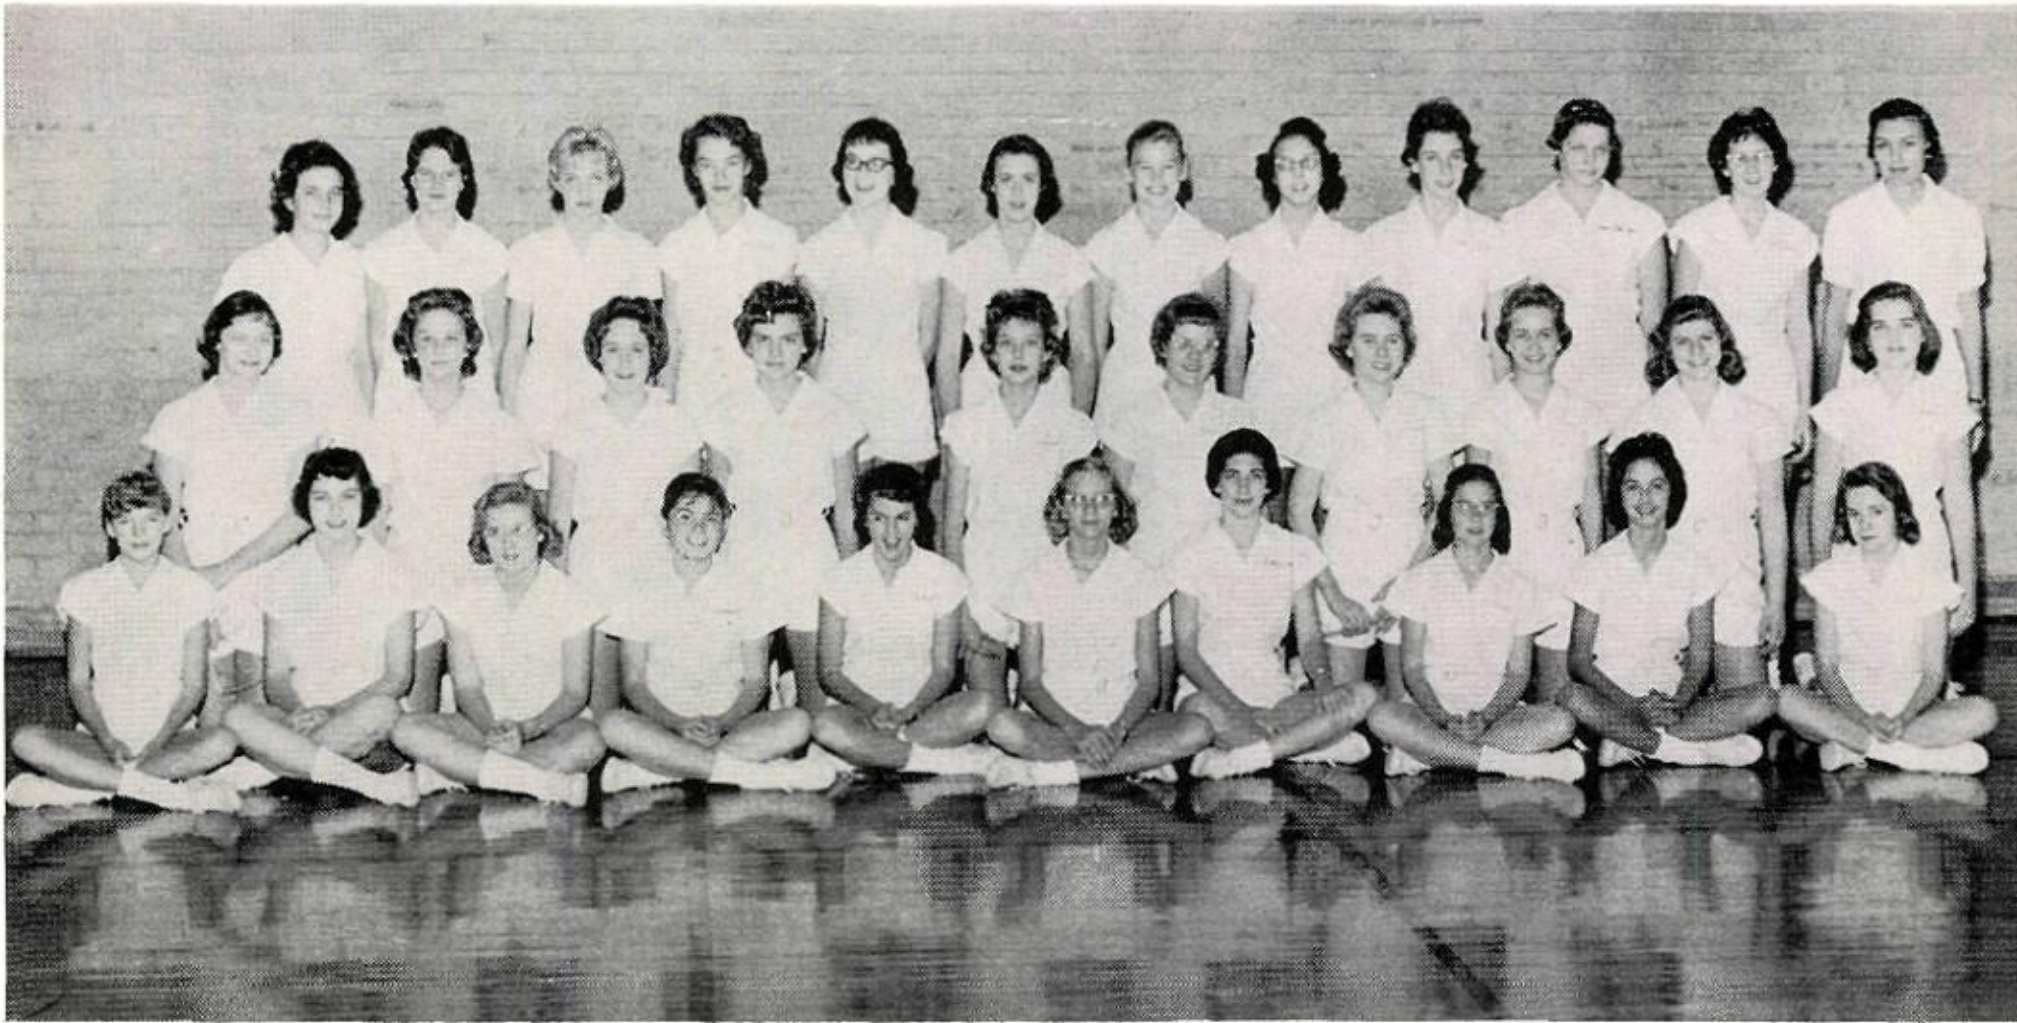

Esben was often the center of attention.

Participation in the state student council convention is a must for Esben.

JUNIOR HIGH LEADER CORPS

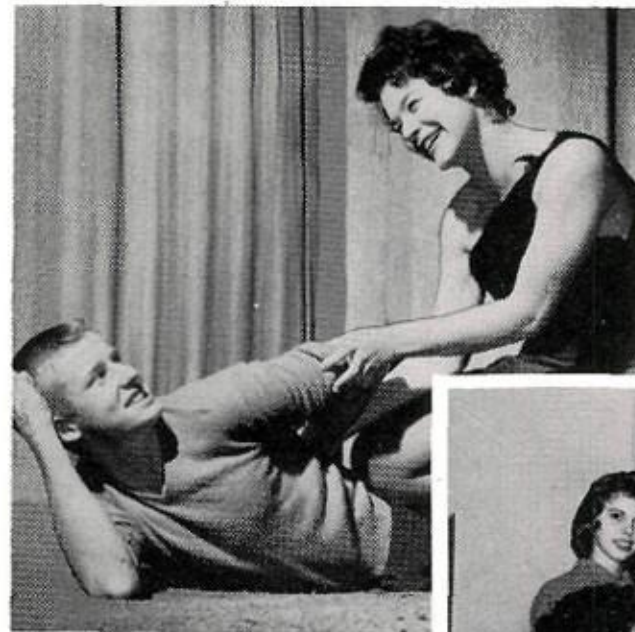

Under the sponsorship of Miss Mary Catherine Davis these girls have served as Junior High Leader Corps this year. They work with the other girls to help provide supervision and promote sportsmanship.

MANY SUCCESSFUL ACTIVITIES HAVE TAKEN PLACE THIS YEAR . . .

I just knew that he wanted to mate a female Siamese cat, and I also knew that she had a male Siamese cat. So, I told him, and he called her, and they all got together.

The Latin Club's biggest event of the year was sponsoring "L'il Abner."

I'm honored, really!

SO LONG FOR AWHILE

Concert Chorus, organized just before the 1959 school year, has accomplished many outstanding things throughout the past year. Under the direction of Mr. Ronald Shirey, this eye-catching group has appeared all over the city. And, along with taking tours across the country, they starred in the Junior Class play, "Bells are Ringing," with choreography directed by Mrs. Braxton Robinson.

We will be looking forward to many more outstanding performances from this group again next year.

Mrs. Mitchell,
I've always wondered why history's such a blast. I've decided it's been you!!!
Sharon Heines

Thank you so much
Dutchess LeMaster

Mrs. Mitchell,
I always have liked
you & you've increased my interest! But I'll always remember the helpful help you've been to other students in the common things that confront us each day! Thank you so much
Dutchess LeMaster

Mrs. Mitchell,
It's been a very enjoyable year in your class and I think you're one of the best teachers I have had. I hope to see you next year. Lots of luck in the future.
Ronnie Wilson

Mrs Mitchell,
I've enjoyed being in your class this past year (even if the feeling isn't mutual) I wish all the luck in the world for the years to come

Peggy Runsmoor
P.S. I didn't really mean what I said about the feeling not being mutual

Mrs. Mitchell,
You are one of the nicest teachers I've ever known. I understand how you managed to flowing me, you managed to (at least) appreciate me all year long. Thanks
a lot,
Ted Martner

to the sweetest and best teachers I have ever had. Hope to see you in the years to come.
